

Meet Dylan!

Intrigued by lights, ceiling fans, and light poles, it's perhaps not surprising that Dylan has a mechanical inclination.

He is very curious about how things operate and likes to watch the mechanics of objects. One of Dylan's favorite pastimes is working on taking apart ceiling fans to see how they work and has been gifted many over the years in support of his curiosity. Dylan's favorite food is Mac and Cheese, and he loves drinking sweet tea. Dylan's dream day out consists of going to the zoo to see the elephants and getting a sweet treat from Culver's. Dylan enjoys spending quality time with others and likes having one-on-one attention.

Dylan is kind to animals and bonds well with them. He is particularly fond of energetic dogs and will always greet them when walking around the neighborhood. In his free time, Dylan likes to play on his tablet, draw, color, listen to music, and go on bike rides. He also enjoys building Legos and watching car-related videos. Dylan likes going to school and enjoys learning new things. Dylan wants to be an electrician when he grows up and has high hopes of working for APS.

The ideal family for Dylan consists of a two-parent household where he is either the only child or with much older siblings. Dylan would benefit from a family who would patiently listen to and work with him to help nurture his development. He would do best in a family that has flexibility and can prioritize his needs. The right family would have a lot of time and energy to provide him with adequate supervision as well. Families should know that Dylan is an incredibly sweet and easy-going kid. He is very friendly and outgoing to those he meets.

Dylan was born in 2009.
