Meet Joseph!

Joseph is a likable and fun-loving kid with a big heart and an energetic spirit.

Some of his favorite activities include playing Roblox and Fortnite, as well as football, baseball, and basketball. He loves being active and enjoys both friendly competition and simply having fun with others. Nothing makes him happier than a meal from McDonald's. At school, his favorite subject is music, where he enjoys being creative, expressive, and learning new ways to connect with rhythm and sound. Friendship is very important to him—he values being around people who are and supportive. His friends help him feel calm and confident, and he does his best to return that same kindness and loyalty. He dreams for his future and hopes to become a cosmetologist, which shows his curiosity, creativity, and enthusiasm for learning new skills.

He would truly thrive in a loving, structured, and consistent family environment that offers both encouragement and clear expectations. He does best when surrounded by caregivers who are patient, understanding, and supportive. A one- or two-parent household would be great, and he would love to have pets to care for and bond with. He hopes to remain in Arizona, but what matters most to him is finding a family who will love him unconditionally. He would do especially well as an only child, where he can receive focused attention and support as he continues to build confidence, self-esteem, and joy in his daily life. Joesph was born in 2011.
